Katanga Makes Threat As U.N. Sets To Enter

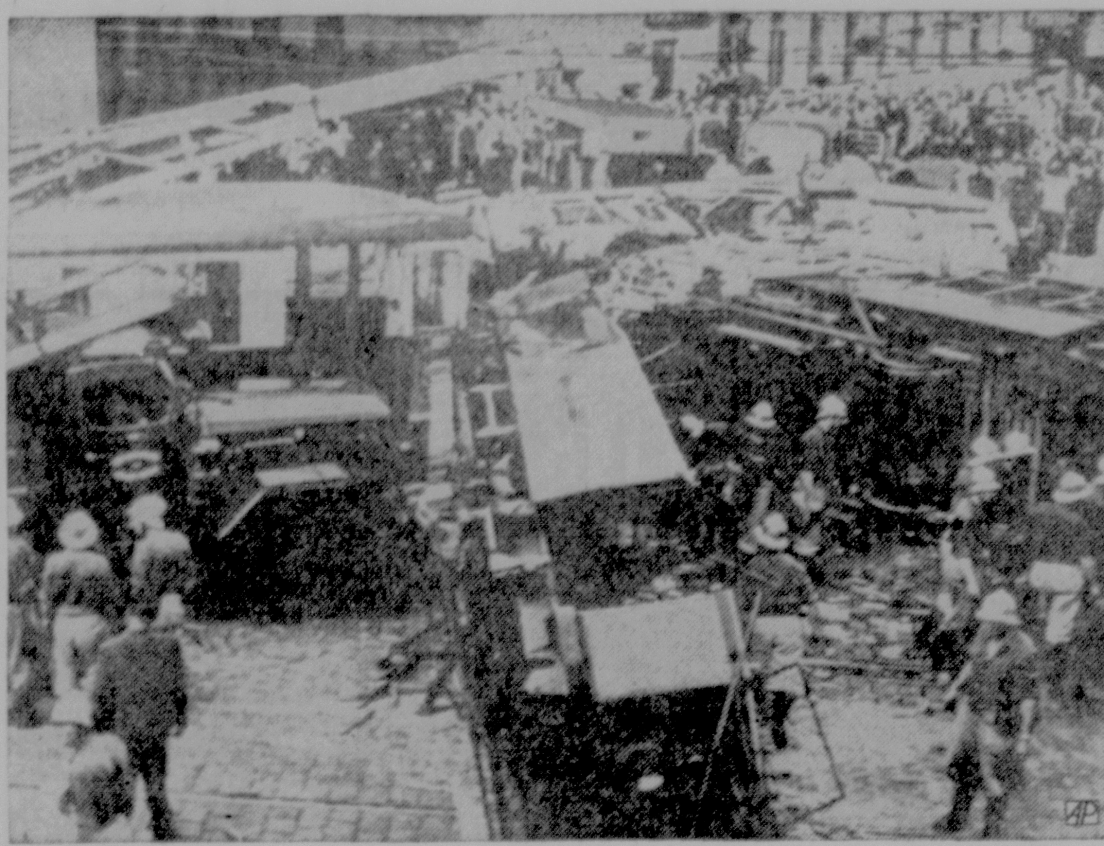

Have To Fight Your Way In, Says Premier

By ANDREW BOROWICZ
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The secessionist government of Katanga Province made a defiant mobilization-for-war move Wednesday as a threat against the scheduled entry of U.N. troops there Saturday. And the Belgian government in Brussels gave the U.N. a tongue-lashing over Katanga.

Shunting aside Katanga's war threat, the U.N. Congo Command announced: "Our troops are going to enter Katanga as planned."

Katanga Premier Moise Tshombe said in Elisabethville, his capital: "They will have to fight their way in."

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld declared, in a statement in Leopoldville that the entry of U.N. forces into Katanga "in no case constitutes interference nor can it be permitted to develop into interference in the internal affairs of the Republic (of the Congo) or the province."

Second Labor Group To Act

UAW Hurls Support To Demos

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy received a pledge of support Wednesday from United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther for his vice presidential running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. Reuther told the Democratic presidential nominee that Johnson's record and his backing of the Democratic platform entitle the Texan to organized labor's support.

Kennedy's unheralded choice of Johnson as his running mate had come as a shock to the self-styled liberal wing of the party.

Reuther was the second top flight labor leader to overcome misgivings about whether Johnson might be too conservative, then came here with belated promises to support him as heartily as they will Kennedy.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, was the first on Monday. McDonald said then he expected an early statement from AFL-CIO President George Meany on labor's plans for a formal endorsement of candidates.

After talking with Kennedy, Reuther told a news conference that Johnson "has stated very flatly he does believe in this (Democratic) platform and he is going to work to support the platform. That's good enough for me."

Like McDonald, Reuther said Johnson had proved his sincerity in a speech at Nashville, Tenn.

Reuther said he was speaking only for himself in pledging that "I am going to work very hard to elect Sen. Kennedy and Sen. Johnson." But the UAW chief predicted organized labor generally will line up behind the Democratic ticket, and soon.

Reuther said Johnson has "made an outstanding record" as Senate majority leader, in dealing with "some of the outstanding legislation of our time." He called the Kennedy-Johnson team "two excellent candidates."

The Kennedy-Reuther talk came during a day of economic discussions at Kennedy's summer home.

The article by K. Ivanov appeared to reflect frustration at U. N. action. Early in the crisis the Soviets were angry about the presence of uniformed U. S. technicians in the Congo. Just a few weeks ago Premier Nikita Khrushchev was calling himself the area's protector and uttered the slogan "Hands off the Congo."

Pravda charged that, despite Hammarskjöld's presence, the Belgians continued their activities. American, British and French officers among the U. N. forces are disarming soldiers loyal to the Congo republic, the newspaper said.

The blast was in response to a U. S. State Department declaration of July 30 that Belgium could not be considered an aggressor.

Nixon Starts Campaign In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon opened his presidential campaign in the nation's 50th state Wednesday with a call for America to "project the spirit of aloha throughout the world."

This spirit of good will and friendship, he said should include more top-level good will missions despite the fact Communists wrecked America's most recent such trip by blocking President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

At the same time, Nixon said, the United States must be ready to change both the amount and allocation of defense funds to meet any contingency.

Nixon kicked off his campaign minutes after arriving by plane from Los Angeles — the first presidential candidate to appeal for Hawaii votes. Island residents will vote in a presidential election for the first time this November.

A cheering crowd of 500 met the vice president and his wife at the airport.

Fast Pace

The Nixons embarked almost immediately on a whirlwind round of activities taking them today to Ollana Palace, the center of the state government; Pearl Harbor; a shopping center; Punch Bowl Memorial Cemetery, where thousands of American war dead are buried, and a television interview.

Thursday the Nixons will visit the outlying islands of Kaula, Maui and Hawaii by plane.

The vice president said this is his fifth visit to Hawaii. He came the first time as a naval officer returning from 14 months of active duty in the Solomons during World War II. His second was as a United States senator and the next two as vice president.

Nixon concentrated heavily on foreign policy and national defense, two prime topics in this Pacific outpost where military spending of 330 million dollars a year is the largest source of island income.

The Republican presidential standard bearer was the last to leave his chartered plane when it landed at 11:28 a.m. 4:28 p.m. (EST).

Greeters draped him with flower leis in the traditional Hawaiian welcome.

Brief Remarks

Gov. William F. Quinn presented Pat Nixon with a white carnation lei.

After brief remarks at the airport, Nixon and his party left for a motorcade tour through Honolulu to Iolani Palace and then to the Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

As Nixon winged over the Pacific, the FBI announced the arrest of a man accused of falsely saying he had placed a bomb aboard the Nixon chartered plane during a stop in Reno, Nev., Tuesday. Agents said Leonard Dale Smith made the statement to the pilot.

Sage, cab driver and ex-wrestler, was arraigned on the charge in Reno Wednesday morning.

The campaign tour will extend the battle lines between Nixon and his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Kennedy has been accusing Nixon of shifting his position on basic issues. Nixon has countered with charges Kennedy is indulging in low-road campaigning.

Hawaii achieved statehood last year and Republicans won upset victories in the first congressional and state elections.

There are about 175,000 voters in Hawaii, about 75 per cent of them in Honolulu.

Kennedy plans to campaign in Hawaii later.

Farmer 'Picks' Jail For Taxes

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York State farmer chose jail Wednesday rather than abandon his one-man rebellion against federal income taxes.

Elmer Kirchner, six foot, 200-pound father of four children, has been resisting the tax for the past four years.

He claims federal income taxes are unconstitutional because "the money is used for the support of foreign governments abroad."

Defense Boosts Looming

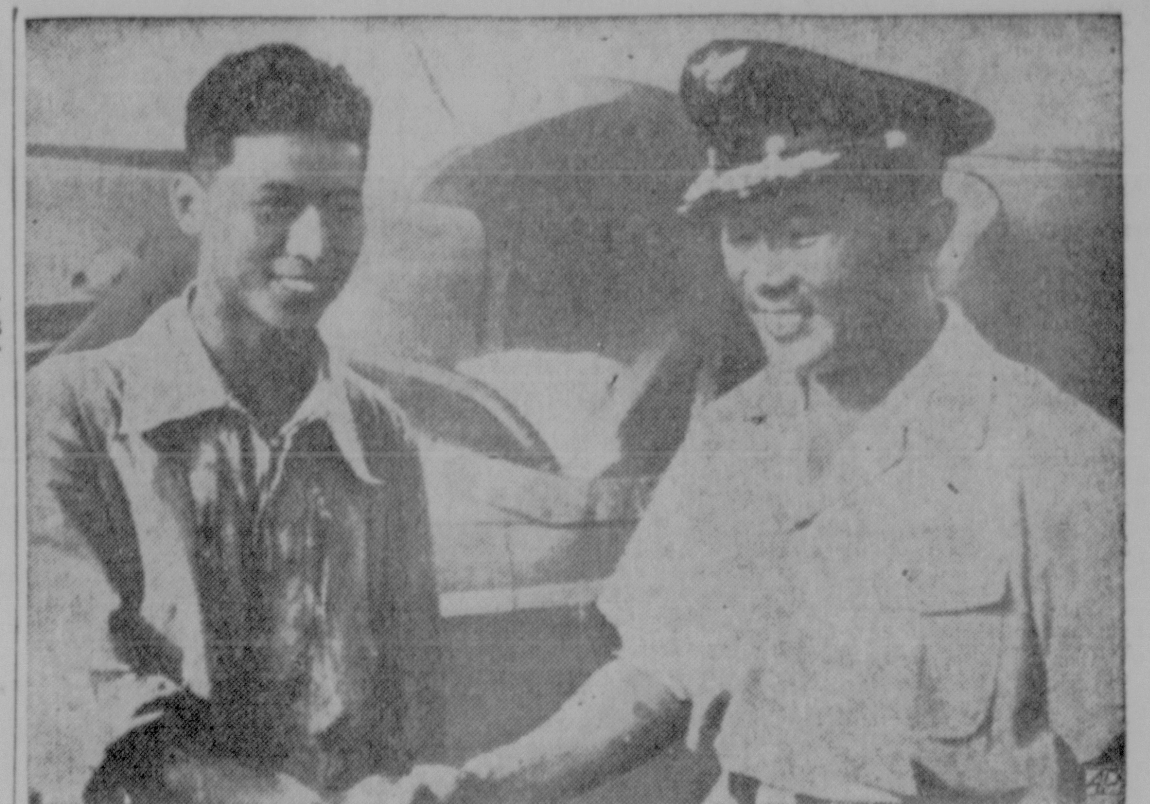

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) indicated Wednesday that Congress will boost defense funds and called on the Eisenhower administration to say how the added money should be used.

The Democratic platform, on which Johnson is running as vice presidential nominee, calls for added defense spending. The Republican platform endorses additional funds as needed.

Johnson disclosed the post-convention session of Congress starting Monday will consider a long list of defense items — which might add billions to the 40-billion-dollar budget ceiling the administration has set on such spending for the current fiscal year.

Made Public

Johnson's office made public a letter to Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. saying Congress will consider "the need for additional funds for a strengthened national defense."

Interpreting New

Great Success Hinders Selling Ability Of U. S.

By J. M. Roberts

Associated Press News Analyst

ONE of the problems of the United States is selling her idea of a free economic system to newly-developing nations is, ironically, her great success.

When President Sukarno of Indonesia visited here he said, in effect, "It is wonderful, but it is beyond our reach."

This idea that the pie just fell out of the sky for Americans sets them apart from other peoples, and lets the Communists say: "When you have to slave for all you get, when you can't get rich, then it's best to slave our way."

But is it a fact that the natural resources of the United States are so much greater than Eurasia's, or Africa's, or South America's? Or is it that the major factor has been vision, and the willingness to invest blood and sweat?

Found Hardship

Certainly the early settlers found only hardship and disappointment. Many of them did not have even the religious freedom or the escape from bondage for which they had fled Europe.

But they raised a crop of most amazing sons, pulled together in the vortex of an historic vision. Educated men in a wild environment. Urgent men seeking a lodestar which had never until those days been discovered.

They found it, called it freedom, fought a long and bitterly hopeless but finally successful war for it. They set up a system of government never tried before in the world, based on the aspirations of men worn by adversity into a new people. It has stood.

They might have stopped there, hardly beyond the beaches. Many wanted to do just that — the Federalists. But Thomas Jefferson said there must be no Europe in North America, with all of its prejudices and divisions.

Lewis-Clark Trip

France, Spain, Britain and even Russia were trying for dominion in the west. Jefferson sent Lewis and Clark, with a few men, up the uncharted Missouri and down the Columbia, through Indian tribes stirred up by the British, and they returned with their maps, their descriptions, and without losing a man.

Soon the wagon trains captured the American Northwest. Traveling communes, they were. Circling their wagons at night against attackers, voting which way to go next morning. The pioneers voted a lot more than they fought.

As civilization spread into the Southwest, the extension of slavery became an issue, and the nation fought to see whether it should be one or two. Out of blood came unity. The continent would be one in peace from sea to sea.

In blood, in vision, in tears and sweat, in mutual trust and an all-pervading faith, the people dug a nation out of the earth.

Pie in the sky? My eye!

Real Fight Expected At Tennessee Polls

By The Associated Press

SEN. Estes Kefauver, the Democratic candidate for vice president four years ago, faces a fight for his political life in his own state Thursday.

His opponent for re-election to the Senate in the Democratic primary is Andrew T. Taylor, a circuit court judge at Jackson. An ardent segregationist and states rights, Taylor has waged a vigorous campaign that matched the energy of Kefauver's traditional handshaking tactics.

Taylor has called Kefauver an ultra-liberal who doesn't represent Tennessee. In denouncing the senator's votes in Congress for civil rights legislation, Taylor has said his own election would mean another vote for the South on civil rights and on other issues.

Kefauver has defended his civil rights stand on assuring all qualified citizens of the right to vote. He has cited his accomplishments for the Tennessee Valley Authority and other public works appropriations.

Some Objections

The senator charges that Taylor is backed by TVA opponents and by drug industry interests who objected to an inquiry Kefauver conducted into drug prices as chairman of a Senate committee.

The unusually hot contest is expected to bring out about 650,000 voters in muggy weather. Tennessee also will choose a Republican opponent for the Kefauver-Taylor winner, candidates for House seats and for state offices.

State primary elections on Tuesday in Michigan, Missouri and Kansas produced only one major surprise.

Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, 35, a legless Detroit attorney, upset two rivals in Michigan's Democratic primary to succeed Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who is retiring after 12 years as chief executive.

Swainson had been rated an underdog to James M. Hare, 50, a three-term secretary of state, the third man was Detroit Councilman Ed Connor, 52.

Trujillo's Brother Ends Reign

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—President Hector B. Trujillo, brother of dictator Rafael L. Trujillo, stepped down Wednesday after eight years as ceremonial ruler of this Caribbean nation.

Vice President Joaquin Balaguer was sworn in as president Wednesday afternoon at the National Palace. He has been a writer, university professor and diplomat.

Asked To Reconsider

Trujillo submitted his resignation Tuesday to Congress, and it asked him to reconsider. He refused. Friends said he has been in poor health.

The move does not affect the strongman rule of brother Rafael who has been dictator since 1930.

An estimated half million of the island's 2,700,000 people marched last Feb. 21 in a demonstration urging Rafael Trujillo to take back the official leadership he gave his brother.

The parade was regarded as part of a campaign to have the dictator run in the 1962 elections.

Good Morning!

The fellow who boasts about what he's going to do tomorrow usually is quiet about what he did yesterday.

Pravda Tags U. N. Chief As Pro-American Agent

MOSCOW (AP)—In its strongest attack yet on the U. N. secretary-general, the Communist party newspaper Pravda charged Wednesday that Dag Hammarskjöld was acting in the Congo as a pro-American agent.

The paper said Hammarskjöld was playing a "strange role" in Belgium's former African colony. It said the authority of the United Nations was being "trampled in the dirt" as a result.

Pravda called the United States the master mind behind "aggression" in the new African republic.

"What function is Mr. Hammarskjöld fulfilling?" asked Pravda. "Whose interests is he defending in the Congo at a time when he is supposedly trying to secure implementation of the Security Council resolution on the removal of Belgian troops and take measures to provide for the integrity of the Congo Republic?"

Penn Faculty Backs President

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A group of 168 University of Pennsylvania faculty members Wednesday protested what they called the "harrassment" of Dr. Linus Pauling by the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

They signed a resolution backing the Nobel prize-winning chemist's refusal to name scientists who aided his campaign against nuclear weapons tests.

The resolution was signed by the 168 after being circulated throughout the university's 3,286 member faculty by four members of the biochemistry department in the School of Medicine.

The subcommittee has warned it would consider contempt proceedings if Pauling refuses to cooperate.

The resolution by the Penn faculty members said, in part:

"We feel that academic freedom involves the right to express publicly our opinion in areas within our competence. In exercising this right, Professor Pauling... can do no less as an honest scientist than publicize his opinions concerning the hazards of fallout and nuclear weapons testing."

The resolution also asserted that naming of others who aided in publicizing Pauling's views would result in "unwarranted harrassment of these individuals."

French Plan To Revise Law

PARIS (AP)—The French government is considering a revision of the 1881 law that guarantees freedom of the press and sets its operating boundaries. The revision is intended to assure a better protection for freedom of the press, government sources say.

Some newspaper publishers fear, however, that the changes will place new limits on the traditional freedom and deform the spirit of the old law.

16-Year-Old Shows Promise In 'Gigi' At Ross Common

By J. P. Savitt

ON Tuesday, Ross Common Theatre at Wind Gap premiered locally the Anita Loos production "Gigi" to a near capacity house of playbill-fanning females. Renee Winters, a 16-year-old darling who stars as Gigi is a well-learned actress, regardless of her tender years.

Although there were times when she flubbed a word or so, and even became a bit melodramatic during a scene where emotion was to be displayed, she nevertheless, triumphed in the finale, and had the whole audience mumbling praises on the way out.

Madeleine De Leu Pettet, as the grand cocotte, Alicia de St. Ephraim, performed with charm, stateliness, and a cunning sex-sparked tongue that had the audience snickering with glee. Madeleine, was a delight to the first two acts which would have dragged but for her charm.

Wins Warmth

Peter Lennahan, as Gaston Lachaille, cosmopolitan French seductor struck a handsome figure in his tailored outfits and brought the audience out of a lull at the end of the first act with his entrance. Although Lennahan's gait is somewhat stilted, his good looks win warmth from the audience.

Johnnie Gruver, as Mme. Alvarez, Gigi's Grandmother was her talented-self in a role of provincial goodness that deserves a kind word. Andree, Gigi's mother, was played by Dorothy Turmall. She portrayed an aging, once, good-looking pseudo-opera star with a taste for alcohol. Miss Turmall is an actress of wit and handled a hard role with ease—her drunken antics and ridiculous singing brought many laughs, during a laugh filled evening.

Dennis McKeown, as Victor, the butler, was a bit too pompous, but for the most part, especially during an ad-lib when a chair fell apart, was fine in his role. Sidonie, a maid, played by long, black-tressed, Sandra Becker was a charmer. A very sultry character with a nymphet face and a delightful French accent.

"Gigi" in the play version is similar to the movie version that won so many awards except that no songs are sung. It is the story of a young female who is beginning to blossom into maturity and is torn between the life of a mistress which is the fashionable French idea for the period, and the normal life of a married woman.

Gigi is influenced by a wealthy benefactress who has done well with her suitors as is indicated by her piles of games which she shows as tempting devices for Gigi to seek while she plays the role of mistress. But Gigi's conscience enters into the conflict.

She wonders if "True Love" is not better than a heap of glittering trinkets. The climax is exhilarating. Although the first two acts are rather slow, one walks out into the August evening with the feeling that "All is well with the world again." What is the saying? "Love triumphs over all."

LONDON (AP)— Ten Picassos from the Leningrad and Moscow museums on loan to the Tate Gallery in London, will go on exhibition Thursday.

Investors, Brokers Look For End Of Market Slump

NEW YORK (AP)—A trendless, rudderless, stock market lost ground again Wednesday as investors and brokers alike looked in vain for something to break the long summer slump.

The drop was considerably smaller than Tuesday's, and market statistics were less disheartening, but the final tone was the same; lower in slow trading.

Most changes were confined to fractions and the specialized, selective market was pointed up noticeably by wider moves made by issues with news affecting them.

Aircraft and missile stocks, benefitting from Wall Street talk of more defense spending no matter who wins the November election, generally were stronger.

The Associated Press 60-stock average declined 0.70 to 213.40 with industrials down 1.90, rails down 0.50 and utilities up 0.30.

Gap Narrows

The gap between gainers and losers narrowed as 406 of the 1,181 issues traded rose and 551 fell. Only 11 stocks reached new 1960 highs, while 51 fell to new yearly lows.

Dow Jones average of 30 industrials retreated 4.39 to 608.63 and there was increased talk in the Street of yet another test of the 500-point level in this average.

American Stock Exchange prices were irregular on volume of 770,000 shares compared with 750,000 Tuesday.

U.S. government bonds declined while corporate bonds were mixed.

Volume declined to $4,680,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange from $5,020,000 Tuesday, the best in a week.

Four Arrested For Operating Roofing Racket

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police in suburban Carnegie arrested four men yesterday and accused them of taking $874 from an elderly woman on the pretext of fixing her house roof.

Officers said the men contacted Mrs. Gertrude S. Fink, 86, on Thursday and warned her that the house would collapse unless the roof was fixed.

The men, according to police, collected checks for $650 and $224 and were in the act of cashing a third check for $200 when arrested. Officers said they examined the roof and found the only apparent work done was the hammering in of 13 nails.

Charged with obtaining money under false pretense were Melvin Layton, 31, and Robert Wissler, 25, both of Harrisburg; Samuel Spence, 35, of West Fairview; and Earl J. Millfried, 47, of Pittsburgh.

Upsurge Of Idealism

"There's nothing wrong with the American political system that can't be cured by an upsurge of idealism," Arthur H. Motley, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, told an audience a few days ago.

He has put his finger on a vital spot. It is the tone of the electorate that determines the performance of political leaders. The attitude people take toward their political system largely decides how it will be used.

When people pool their political influence and operate as pressure groups making selfish demands, their political representatives can be expected to accommodate them.

Here is an example:

Demands are being made in Washington for billions of dollars of federal aid to education from areas which are short of school funds. But why are they short?

The explanation is obvious, if one looks at their local tax structure. They've held down their own property taxes as a means of luring industries from other areas.

There is one state which exempts new manufacturing firms from property taxes for five years. Another offers a seven-year exemption. Two others go up to 10 years.

While it is any state's right to do so, no state offering such exemptions can be said to be truly incapable of supporting its schools. Actually, such a state is pulling a slick trick—it uses tax exemptions to lure industry on the one hand, and then seeks to lure federal aid as well on the pretense of lacking local resources.

It becomes a case when Pennsylvanians, paying their full share of school taxes, help also to carry another state's load so that state can maintain a favorable tax climate to entice away Pennsylvania's industries.

Correcting situations like this calls for an "upsurge of idealism" whereby men will acknowledge their obligations and honorably accord fair treatment to others, spurning political pressures intended only to gain them special benefits.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Don't Threaten Children With Policeman

Marching her young son up to a policeman at a mid-town corner, and using a tone of voice designed to strike fear into the child's mind, a mother was heard to remark the other day: "There's the man who will get you, if you aren't a good boy and do what I tell you."

A glance at the boy indicated his mother was doing quite well at scaring him—not necessarily into being good, but certainly into avoiding policemen.

It was an episode that lasted only a few seconds, but it was disturbing to watch. We felt sorry for each of the three principals.

For the boy, because his mother was trying to exercise discipline through fear rather than love.

For the mother, because she was afraid of her job as a mother. She was attempting to substitute a policeman as the symbol of parental authority.

And for the policeman, because he was being deprived of the chance to be friendly and helpful to this boy. He was being cast in a fear image. If this child ever got lost or found himself in difficulty he'd be afraid of any policeman.

Yet policemen are not the enemies of youth. They do not want to be presented in that light. And they cannot do their best work either for youth or the community in an atmosphere of hostility.

So to parents: If you've ever had an inclination to threaten your children with the policeman, don't do it. In the long run it is exceedingly poor training for your boys and girls, for it creates antagonisms and distrust that ought to be avoided.

—Williamsport Sun-Gazette

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Henry Cabot Lodge

I first met Henry Cabot Lodge perhaps 35 years ago or so in Shanghai, China. He was then working as a reporter for the "New York Herald Tribune" and was getting an eyeful of the world.

I was an editor and columnist in those days and the young reporter came to get acquainted. The years do pass and today, this same young man is a candidate for Vice President.

During the intervening years Cabot, as his friends call him, has had a brilliant career. During 1952, we disagreed violently. He was for Eisenhower; I was for Taft.

There was much bitterness on both sides, all of which might have been avoided had the businessmen and other amateurs on the Eisenhower side known the rules of the road.

The bitterness survived many years, even after the death of Robert A. Taft because there was vindictiveness on both sides. There are Taft advocates today who look askance at Henry Cabot Lodge, Thomas E. Dewey and Herbert Brownell and who would ordinarily sit on their hands rather than vote for one of them.

That lone delegate from the Lone Star State was such an idealistic cuss.

But this can be said of Henry Cabot Lodge: since 1953 he has served his country valiantly, constantly and courageously. Day after day, in the United Nations he had to take insult, abuse, humiliation, umbrage. The Russians ridiculed him. They denounced his country.

But Lodge fought on ceaselessly. One watched his anguish as he fought for freedom and for the good name of his country. Every day, he was on the firing line, debating, arguing, making his point, winning battles which affected the course of human history.

Perhaps Cabot Lodge would make a preferable Secretary of State. But what is usually forgotten about a Vice President is that he might at a moment's notice become President of the United States by constitutional process.

Surely, Andrew Johnson, look at it as you please, was not a worthy successor to Abraham Lincoln. When we nominate a man for Vice President, do we always recognize this possibility?

There will be Taft Republicans and Joe McCarthy Republicans who will hold it against Cabot Lodge that he was antagonistic to both. There are Middle Western Republicans who still believe that regional considerations are important in these days of stress. They will object to a New Englander.

But if they think clearly, they will set aside their sectarian and regional attitudes and in both parties. The times are too serious. This can be said: four competent men are running for the highest offices.

During the next four or eight years the fate of this country will be settled not by war but by ingenuity, sincerity, morality, character.

I know all four. I have spoken well of the four of them. But as a citizen, you and I will have to make a choice, not as to the lesser of unworthy men but the superior of worthy men and the superiority must be measured in terms of ideas, in capacity for leadership, in essential patriotism which includes a large measure of humility.

During the next three months, our people will be able to take a close measure of these men.

By his acceptance speech Henry Cabot Lodge made it clear that he would not be a gavel-pounding Vice President. He held a seat in President Eisenhower's Cabinet; it is to be assumed that he will be in Nixon's Cabinet and in the National Security Council and the new organ which Nixon hopes to set up to concentrate all our forces for the war of attrition which Soviet Russia is waging against this country.

Cabot Lodge is pitted against no small man in Lyndon Johnson. And that is what makes this campaign so interesting. The two candidates for Vice President are men of accomplishment, knowledge and character.

These are not fellows who are likely to come up with the wise-crack that what this country needs is a good five-cent cigar. Either of them could be President of the United States with dignity and benefit to the country. Both have had wide experience in government.

Cabot Lodge has this one great advantage: he has had more experience in dealing not only with the Russians but with all the new nations of the world than any American—more than any Secretary of State has had at any time.

News From The Realm Of Stamps

By Ray Patton
The United States four cent commemorative marking the 150th anniversary of Mexican Independence, which at the Chicago convention last week they staged a show of unanimity virtually unparalleled in recent years in Keystone State GOP circles.

Pennsylvania Democratic leaders, who themselves could not quite master a similar display of agreement within their own delegation, admit that the show put on by the Pennsylvania GOP bloc was "interesting—if little else."

The design represents the cooperative efforts of Leon Helguera of Mexico and Charles R. Chickering of the United States Bureau of Engraving and Printing. The same design will be used by both countries except for the value (the Mexican issue will be 30 centavos).

The design will feature the historic bell taken to Mexico City from Dolores, Mexico, where Miguel Hidalgo rang it in his church in his call for independence. This bell is now located in a niche over the entrance to the National Palace (Palacio Nacional) in Mexico City and is rung each year by the president of Mexico in impressive ceremonies.

This bell is to the Mexicans as our Liberty Bell is to the people of the United States. The picture of the bell on the stamp will show that it hangs from a cross-piece supported by the figures of two infants. The printing of this portion of the stamp will be in red, simulating the red of the Mexican flag.

Across the top, in three lines, will be the inscription "Mexican Independence 1810-1960" and at the bottom "Joint Issue Mexico-United States 4c U. S. Postage." All the inscriptions are in dark Roman capital letters and will be printed in the same green as used on the Mexican flag.

This is the second time the United States Postoffice Department has joined with another country in a joint issue of a stamp. The only other was the four cent issue commemorating the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway when we joined with Canada for that stamp of June 26, 1959.

Stamp Club News: Members please take note: There will be no regular meeting of the club until September and the secretary will send notices for the next meeting. Groups will, however, continue to meet at Ray Patton's house on Franklin Hill, on Wednesday nights for the trading of stamps. Any collector, member or not, is welcome to attend these trading sessions.

The Pennsylvania Story

GOP Unanimity

By Mason Denison
Harrisburg — It is significant perhaps that back-from-convention Pennsylvania Republican leaders readily concede that at the Chicago convention last week they staged a show of unanimity virtually unparalleled in recent years in Keystone State GOP circles.

Pennsylvania Democratic leaders, who themselves could not quite master a similar display of agreement within their own delegation, admit that the show put on by the Pennsylvania GOP bloc was "interesting—if little else."

The Allen-Scott Report

Labor Confab Put Off

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — That Aug. 17 meeting of AFL-CIO chiefs, to determine whom they will officially support for President, is being called off.

AFL-CIO president George Meany has telegraphed the 29-member Executive Council urging postponement of this Chicago gathering until the impending session of Congress winds up, presumably by September 1.

Purpose of this delay is to put the two political parties on the spot on such pending thorny issues as an increased minimum wage and medical care for the aged.

No new date for another meeting is being proposed. Meany is asking this be left up to the 8-member Executive Committee. Under his plan, that inner group would decide when the AFL-CIO General Board assemblies to take a stand on the presidential race. This Board consists of the 29 Executive Council members and other top union officials.

Meany's unannounced move is certain to be approved.

Indicative of that is the favorable response of Al J. Hayes, Machinists president and an Executive Council leader, as follows:

"It is too early to determine whether we should or should not make an endorsement on the presidency. As matters now stand, the Machinists Non-Partisan Political League would not endorse either the Democratic or Republican ticket. I'm for waiting to see what happens when Congress takes up the high important legislation it left unfinished."

Hayes' blunt wait-and-see attitude is significant because since 1948 his powerful union has supported the Democratic slate.

In the Democratic nomination scramble, Meany and Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers and AFL-CIO vice president, were for Senator Kennedy. Only influential laborite to back Senator Lyndon Johnson was William Doherty, president of the 125,000-member Letter Carriers Association.

Important Gain — The Kennedy-Johnson ticket has scored a significant Southern accession. Senator A. Willis Robertson, Va., long-time close associate of Senator Harry Byrd, veteran state leader, has written Kennedy warmly endorsing the Democratic presidential slate and expressing belief "it will carry Virginia."

Party insiders are exuberantly claiming Robertson's letter is the prelude to a public declaration by Byrd for the Kennedy-Johnson slate. In the 1952 and 1956 campaigns, the powerful Byrd organization gave no aid and comfort to Adlai Stevenson, with the result that President Eisenhower carried Virginia both times. Robertson is running for a third term this year.

Former Senator Claude Pepper (D., Fla.) is definitely planning to seek one of the four new House seats his state is slated to get in 1962 as a result of this year's census. Pepper disclosed this at the Los Angeles convention, explaining that while he "still hopes to return to the Senate some day," he considers being a member of the House "just as important."

Gov. Edmund Brown has been asked by Senators Kennedy and Johnson to come to Washington "at his convenience" to advise them on campaign strategy in California. Brown rates high with Kennedy for his backing at a crucial moment in the tense convention struggle. After the voting there, Kennedy personally thanked Brown for his decisive support.

Three Kennedys (none of them related to the presidential nominee) are running for top Massachusetts offices — two for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination and the third for State Treasurer.

The Democratic gubernatorial race is a battle royal with eight candidates seeking the prize. Gov. Furcolo, who is running against veteran Republican Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, has three opponents, despite being endorsed by the Democratic convention.

GOP Politics — President Eisenhower will definitely campaign for the Nixon-Lodge ticket in the six states Nixon deems the key to the outcome of the contest — California, Illinois, Michigan, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania. That's what Nixon is telling GOP leaders in discussing campaign plans.

He is saying, "The President has personally given me assurances he will stump in every one of these states. That should be of tremendous help to us because studies we have made show these six states will very likely decide this election."

In Massachusetts, the Republicans are not running candidates in five of the 14 congressional districts, despite an announcement that "Every office will be contested." The House is now split 8 Democrats to 6 Republicans.

Sen. Hugh Scott, Pa., former national chairman and one of Nixon's six-member campaign strategy board, is consulted daily by him; sometimes several times and regardless of where they are.

Health Column

Stick To Diet

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

Today I want to pass along a few tips that will help any of you who are trying to lose weight to stick to your diet.

One of the most important things to remember when dieting is to keep calm. For most persons, anxiety, nervousness or just about any emotion upset may increase the desire for food.

Avoid Urge — Do your utmost to avoid family quarrels, at least during the dieting period. Don't tempt yourself with things you shouldn't eat. If the youngsters have dessert, don't look at it longingly. Leave the table and start washing the dishes.

It is interesting in several respects — and may well have a painfully close bearing on the future course of both parties in Pennsylvania.

The oft-times violently turbulent political history of the Keystone State over the years is literally a chronology of the majority party tearing itself to shreds as the inevitable greedy factions claw for control of the high-riding machine or party organization.

In more contemporary times it occurred during the lone preceding Democratic administration of Governor George H. Earle who inhabited the gubernatorial suite from 1935 to 1939.

Democrats at that time, dumbfounded and ill-prepared in having a Democratic governor for only the second time since the Civil War, almost singlehandedly pushed themselves out of the Governor's Mansion as they floundered and fought bitterly among themselves.

Just how well they managed to tear themselves apart is illustrated by the fact that succeeding Republican Governor, Arthur H. James, stumbled into office at a time when Democrats nationally were riding the crest of the Democratic Rooseveltian ear!

It is perhaps somewhat of a natural phenomenon that when a political party reaches majority status, heretofore dormant factional elements inevitably split the party in a grab for the spoils.

This was the case during the previous Democratic Earle Administration and it followed in subsequent Republican administrations, culminated during the administration of Gov. John S. Fine and the shattering defeat for Republicans in 1954.

Almost inexorably the same trend has been developing with Democrats now in power in Pennsylvania under the past administration of Governor Lawrence.

However there is a big difference between Democrats in power now and back in the 1930's when Mr. Earle held forth in the gubernatorial suite atop Capitol Hill.

It is true that the inevitable party-in-power wrangling and dissension once again has struck Pennsylvania Democrats — but this time with considerably more restraint and control. Much of the credit for this of course must be handed to Pennsylvania's Democratic old pro Mr. Lawrence who, after the somewhat bombastic Leader Administration, unquestionably has had a calming or leavening effect.

Pennsylvania donkey riders today are twitching and doing some clawing — but at this point they are not tearing themselves apart.

Keystone State Republicans on the other hand went through this same stage in the 16 years preceding the Democratic Leader Administration — although in the end, as inevitably seems to be the case, they managed to literally kick themselves apart.

As the minority office-holding party they unquestionably are on the build-up road, following the almost ageless pattern.

This was clearly demonstrated in quiet degree at the GOP convention last week in Chicago in delegate actions. The development indeed is of more than passing interest. It is destined to have close bearing on the future course of both parties in Pennsylvania.

The El Morocco set's private book odds are 8 to 1 on a newish acquaintance with fellow Britisher Sabrina? (Nice work if you can get it) . . . es, if necessary.

Coffee Or Tea
Still, there is no need to go hungry.

When the stomach begins to growl about how empty it is down there, have a cup of black coffee, a cup of tea or chew a piece of celery.

I think you will find that even drinking a glassful of water will help stave off that hungry feeling until mealtime.

The best times for snacks, incidentally, are probably about 10:30 a.m., and again at 3 p.m. and, of course, the pre-bedtime tidbit if you feel that you must have it.

Relax at every meal and eat slowly. Not only will this give you time to chew your food well, but it also helps create the impression that you are eating more. Taking smaller than usual portions also tends to make the entire meal seem larger than it really is.

Perhaps some of you will have trouble judging the amounts of meat listed in individual diets. You can't weigh the portions very well, so how can you tell how much to serve?

Helpful Guide
As a guide, think of a pound of hamburger. That's 16 ounces. One pound of hamburger made into four equal patties gives you four four-ounce portions.

As a further guide, glance over the packaged meat counter the next time you are in a supermarket. Note just how large a one-pound cut is. And then use your head, not your stomach, when preparing your next diet meal.

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—A jazz show erupted early yesterday into a wild melee of knives, bottles and flying chairs that injured scores, several seriously. Seven persons were arrested.

Wyckoff Suggests Parking Plan

STRODSBURG Borough Council last night referred to its planning committee a suggestion by Ernest H. Wyckoff for use of the Rupert parking lot on S. Sixth St.

Wyckoff reported that his store has leased the lot on a year-to-year basis. He suggested the borough might be interested in placing meters on the 12-space lot with a suggestion that Wyckoff take 80 percent of the profit of such operation.

The move to refer it to the authority came after a short discussion in which the consensus of council was that the borough would lose money on the proposition.

Council also:

Exonerated John A. Kitchen, tax collector, from collecting $879.12 in 1959 taxes, which with penalties amounted to $923.07.

Confirmed election of Millard A. Marsh as assistant fire chief to fill the unexpired term of the late Archie S. Rundle until the first Thursday of April, 1962.

Directed appraisers to determine the value of a strip of land on the Graydon LaBar property off McConnell St. which Blanche Parsons said she would accept in settlement of a claim for damages to her property due to construction of the street.

Approved the request of George Elber, 904 Scott St. to satisfy a lien for curb and gutter in the amount of $39.20 due to damage to property resulting from storm sewer construction in 1954.

Was notified that the Borough of East Stroudsburg has requested a meeting, tentatively for Sept. 12, to discuss a joint sanitary land fill operation to replace borough dumps.

Miner Fined For Non Safety

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Judge T. Linus Hoban Wednesday found a 55-year-old miner guilty of violating state law by failing to timber a mine roof.

It was in this mine that a 35-year old laborer was killed in a rock fall.

Joseph Symuleski, 55, Greenwood, was fined $55 and costs or 30 days in the county jail.

At the same time, Judge Hoban dismissed a charge against Nuncio Lombardi, superintendent of the Lombardi Coal Co., on a motion of the defendant's counsel, attorney Paul Price.

Judge Hoban said he was dismissing the charge because the defendant could not be held criminally responsible for the charge under the section cited by the Commonwealth.

Isaac Stark, 35, of Springbrook Township was killed in the fall of rock in the No. 13 slope of the Lombardi Coal Co., at Moosic on Feb. 8.

The structure will contain four offices, a fire station, an assembly room, a fireman's lounge and space for a future kitchen. These rooms will be on

Confair Seeks Churches Aid

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Republican state senator disclosed Wednesday he has started a campaign to have churches help in registering voters for the Nov. 8 election.

Sen. Zehnder H. Confair (Lycoming) added that his effort is non-partisan and will include all churches. Confair, a Williamsport soft drink bottler, is a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

He said he is sending 500 copies of his plan to various churches. "I took this up on my own because I believe every person of whatever religious faith should take an interest in government," the Williamsport legislator added.

"Everyone I talked to, regardless of their religion or politics, agrees this is a good thing."

the top floor.

In the lower level will be a storage room for township trucks and equipment, other storage rooms, boiler room and space for an eventual police car.

The Board of Supervisors, George Hallet chairman, Harold Albert and Jay Albertson, decided on all bids last night at Albert's home on Stokes Mill Road.

The bids were opened Monday afternoon at the office of Rinker and Kiefer, the building's architects.

Low bid for the plumbing installation was received from H. L. Cleveland of East Stroudsburg, with a bid of $3,833.

Matt Kime electric, had the lowest bid for wiring and electric installation with an offer of $6,120, and H. C. Archibald had had the lowest bid of $9,785 for the heating and ventilating systems.

From the construction bid of $64,975 by Charles Frank, $2,712 was deducted by eliminating accessories and simplifying the finishing of the interior of the building. All told, the building when completed will cost $82,000.

East Stroudsburg National Bank Getting Face-Lifting

RENOVATIONS which will give the East Stroudsburg National Bank 3,600 more square feet of working space are underway, according to Claude Cramer, bank cashier.

"The renovations are a major job," Cramer said, "possibly a ten-month operation. The bank purchased the Joseph Lessig building on the So. Courtland St. side of the bank several years ago."

The Lessig structure is to be demolished and rebuilt to the height of the present bank. This will provide the 3,600 square feet of working area.

The first floor will be the lobby, teller and note cages, and offices, and the second floor will be used for the bookkeepers, transit department and supplies and the third floor for permanent filing and storage.

Architects Rinker and Kiefer, of Stroudsburg, are the architects, and Harvey W. Huffman of Marshalls Creek is the general contractor.

The bank was established in 1889, and the first meeting was held in what was then known as Buzzard's Hall. Director's meetings were then held in the law offices of A. R. Brittain until the bank building was finished.

The first dividend was declared in 1889, and the bank has declared 141 consecutive dividends since that time, the last being paid on June 30 of this year.

The bank pays four dollars per year, and in April 1959 declared a stock dividend giving shareholders one free share for every three they held.

Soviet Fishing Fleet Off Nfld.

OTTAWA (AP)—A Soviet fishing armada of possibly 160 ships is operating 100 to 150 miles off the northeast coast of Newfoundland, Fisheries Minister J. Angus MacLean said Wednesday in the House of Commons.

He was replying to a member who said there are more Russians—25,000—than Newfoundlanders in the area.

MacLean said this report was substantially correct. The fleet included supply and factory ships. It was fishing for rosefish and was not in or near Canadian territorial waters.

Pocono 'Filming' Assailed

ATTENDANCE of 10 Public Welfare Department employees at a mental health film conference at a Pocono Mountain resort has been questioned by Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith in Harrisburg.

He said Tuesday that the employees spent three days, June 7-9, at state expense at the resort "to see a film on how to show a film."

Smith added that the choice of the resort during the summer tourist season "hardly squares with the austerity program which is the announced policy of the administration."

Defends Meet
Dr. John E. Davis, state commissioner of mental health, defended attendance of the employees at the sessions.

He said the conference, sponsored by the National Institute of Mental Health and the mental film board, dealt with the creative use of mental health films.

Davis added that the bureau's professional staff must be proficient in the use of the films and that it was his desire that they attend the conference.

Smith said the 10 employees were permitted to spend $9 a day for meals, compared with the regular $5 daily state allowance.

The auditor general said the biggest item of expense, cost of the rooms, has not been submitted for payment. These costs are billed directly to the state and are not included on individual expense accounts.

Study Set For Capital Punishment

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's legislative leaders Wednesday decided to go ahead with a special study on whether to abolish capital punishment in the state.

It will be conducted by the Joint State Government Commission, the Legislature's research arm. The 1959 Assembly authorized the study but it was held up because the commission lacked the funds.

Vote To Probe
The commission's 15-member executive committee—comprising leaders of the Senate and House—voted to go ahead since the agency is due to receive an appropriation of an additional $100,000 unused by the legislative watchdog committee on state finances.

Guy W. Davis, commission counsel and director, said a task force of legislators will be named soon to conduct the research. They will report back to the 1961 legislative session which convenes in January.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson (McKean), House Republican leader, was the only committee member who voted against the study.

Steelworker Abandons Plans

CHARLOTTE, Pa. (AP)—Gus Brickner, the Charlotte steelworker who failed to swim the English Channel on Tuesday, says he will not make another attempt.

The husky, 48-year-old grandfather called his wife, Mary, from Calais, France, on Wednesday and later talked to her by phone.

He told his wife he will not attempt the swim a third time. Brickner first tried the channel crossing in 1957 but failed. On Tuesday, Brickner entered the water at Calais and swam 14 hours and 55 minutes before he was pulled from the water only a half mile from the English shore.

Brickner told his wife he was defeated by cramps and seas that "were just too awful."

He plans returning home Thursday evening by plane.

Pocono-Bound Scouts Start 'Downhill' Today

EASTON — A group of seven Boy Scouts hiking from Philadelphia City Hall to the Resaca Falls Scout Reservation in the Poconos are expected to spend the night in this area today.

They plan to complete their trip tomorrow, according to Edward McCarthy, the leader.

The group will be joined by other members of the troop at the Falls.

Hampered By Heat
McCarthy said the heat of the last few days has necessitated the group's taking a break about every 30 minutes. All are from Troop 3, Hatboro.

They are expected to begin the fourth day of the 108-mile hike about 8 a.m. today.

Reach Agreement

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Malaya and Thailand Wednesday reached agreement on joint plans to intensify war against 600 Communist rebels seeking refuge along their border.

O'Keefe won a delay in municipal court Tuesday.

'Specs' O'Keefe Attempts To Avoid Keystone Grab

BOSTON (AP)—Brink's robber Joseph (Specs) O'Keefe Wednesday stalled efforts of Pennsylvania to get him behind bars on another charge.

Pennsylvania wants him to serve a 3 to 12 year term imposed in McKean County, Pa., in 1954 on a breaking and entering charge.

O'Keefe won a delay in municipal court Tuesday.

His efforts to escape extradition have the backing of some Massachusetts authorities who say that to send him to Western Pennsylvania Penitentiary would be tantamount to signing his death warrant.

O'Keefe won his Massachusetts freedom June 22 after serving 5½ years for the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery of Jan. 1950.

The other eight living Brink's robbers are serving life.

His Reward
O'Keefe's release after such a comparatively short term was a reward for his testimony which helped convict his fellow robbers.

It was while O'Keefe was free in 1954, pending his appeal from the Pennsylvania sentence, that he was arrested in Massachusetts for the Brink's robbery.

He divulged his own part in the robbery and those of the other gang members because, he said, they cheated him of his share of the loot.

Deputy Dist. Atty. William F. Potter of McKean County, Pa., notified Boston Municipal Court

Wednesday that O'Keefe is under orders to appear in a Pennsylvania court next Monday.

If he doesn't appear, Potter said the state will begin formal extradition proceedings through Massachusetts Gov. Foster Furcolo.

O'Keefe indicated he has no intention of appearing in Pennsylvania at any time.

Told To Fight
Dist. Atty. Garrett H. Byrne of

Boston said he has told his aides to fight the Pennsylvania petition. Byrne has said the Brink's robbery might have never been solved without O'Keefe's help.

He added that putting O'Keefe behind bars—even in Pennsylvania—would be signing his death.

No Injuries In Two-Car Accident

CARS driven by John L. Copenhaver, 20, of Shawnee-on-Deleware, and Roy Retallick Jr., 24, of Milford, collided on Rt. 209 at Echo Lake Tuesday morning. No one was injured.

Stroudsburg state police said Copenhaver will be charged with failing to drive on the right side of the highway. Police said the eastbound Copenhaver car drifted over the white line and sideswiped the Retallick car, causing him to run off the road and hit a tree.

Copenhaver told police that he was pre-occupied with his 11-week-old daughter, Jewel, sitting between him and his wife Georgia, 17.

Retallick and two passengers, John Fox, 22, of Matamoras and Rose Marie Moran, 19, of Echo Lake, are summer students at East Stroudsburg State College.

27 Perish In Typhoon

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The official toll from Typhoon Shirley and ensuing floods reached 27 dead, 99 missing, and 205 injured yesterday. More than 50,000 persons are homeless.

A truck carrying 28 members of an opera troupe was swept from a bridge into a raging river. The 28 and their driver were among the missing.

The typhoon raged across Formosa Sunday. It was followed Monday by rainstorms of far greater intensity than those that preceded and accompanied the typhoon.

The U.S. command in Formosa said there were no casualties among American personnel or their dependents.

Burglars Enter Kemp Post, Take $100 In Coins, Bills

BURGLARS took approximately $100 in coins and bills from the barroom of George N. Kemp Post 346, American Legion, 268 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, yesterday.

Entry was gained through a window on the east side of the building between 1:30 a.m. when the post closed and 8 a.m. when Louis Caretta, steward, reported for work.

Caretta said the money was taken from a jar on the back bar. Borough police are investigating.

Fire Truck, 2 Cars Crash

FERN RIDGE state police investigated a crash involving two cars and a DuPont Fire Co. truck at 9 p.m. Tuesday one mile east of White Haven.

Reportedly the fire truck was sideswiped by one of the cars as it was returning to the fire house from participating in a parade. The second car hit the fire truck as it was parked after the crash.

There were no injuries, but damage was extensive. Troopers had difficulty separating the second car from the truck. Names of the drivers of the cars are still not available.

Rules Smoking Led To Death

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A federal jury decided yesterday that smoking contributed to Edwin P. Green's death by lung cancer but refused to hold a tobacco company responsible.

The jury brought in its verdict after eight hours of deliberations in a suit filed by Green's estate against the American Tobacco Co. The suit was based on contentions that Green, who died in 1958, contracted a fatal lung cancer by heavy smoking of the company's cigarettes for 30 years.

TEACHING JOHNNY TO SWIM

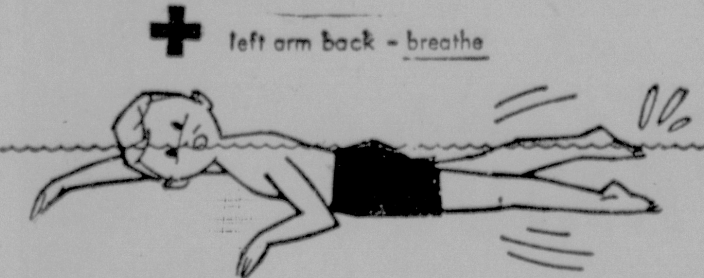

SERIES TWO

Next step in teaching Johnny to swim is instruction in the prone kick glide or "steamboat." Have him lie face down on a bench, table, bed, or other flat surface and, keeping his legs straight but not stiff, move them up and down in a slow, even motion. When he (and Jimmy) can do this, have them get in waist-deep water, and with one boy towing the other by the hands, have them practice this kick. After practice, they should try it on their own.

Now for the arm stroke, called the human stroke. Have Johnny keep his arms under water and reach forward, first with one arm and then the other, as if he were crawling. As the right arm goes forward, the left hand should come back and touch the lower part of the chest. Combine the arm and leg movements and keep the face in the water at this time.

Now Johnny is ready to try an armstroke (the human stroke) and combine it with the kick and breathing to do a complete stroke on the front. Arms are kept below the surface. As he moves his right arm forward, he turns his face left out of the water to breathe, as in this picture. He kicks in regular motion.

Jersey Not Concerned At Bid Shun

THE New Jersey state highway department indicated yesterday that it was not greatly concerned over failure of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads to approve the low bid for a key project in the construction of the Bergen expressway.

The Federal Bureau announced in Washington that it would not approve the award of the contract for a sand draining project to the low bidder at $6,802,786. The original engineering estimate was $4,900,000.

A spokesman for the highway department said it would be necessary to advertise for bids again.

The Bergen expressway is part of a thoroughfare that, when completed, will run from the George Washington bridge to Delaware Water Gap. It is being financed by state and federal funds.

E-Burg Man Beaten In Bethlehem

BETHLEHEM—John D. Stone, 54, of East Stroudsburg, told Bethlehem police from a hospital bed Tuesday that he was abducted, beaten, and robbed by five men.

He said he escaped his captors by grabbing the driver of his own car, causing the vehicle to crash into a tree on Center St. near Washington Ave. In Bethlehem at 1:45 a.m. on Tuesday, Stone is in fair condition in St. Luke's hospital where he is being treated for a broken jaw and bruises of the right shoulder and elbow. One of Stone's alleged abductors, George Douglas, 32, was admitted to the hospital for the treatment of a broken leg.

Russians Repeat Plane Charges

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union repeated yesterday its charges that a U.S. RB47 reconnaissance plane was on a spy mission when it was shot down in the Barents Sea July 1. A Soviet note rejected again the U.S. demands for an impartial investigation and described the American proposal as a "maneuver designed to distract attention from the inadmissible character of American military aviation."

The note made no mention of Washington's request for the return of the two surviving crewmen of the plane although it was billed as an answer to the U.S. demand of July 18.

Palmerton Workers Reject Offer

UNION employees of the Palmerton plant, New Jersey Zinc Co., have rejected without dissent a company offer for a new two-year contract.

Strike action was still deemed uncertain. Locals 3317 and 4830, United Steelworkers, which represent the 1500 union employees at the plant, served notice Sunday night that they plan to strike at midnight Friday if no new contract is agreed upon.

A union official said Tuesday that the workers do not want to strike, but would shut down only to get the company to "bargain in good faith."

Two-thirds Rejection of the company proposal was by about two-thirds of the total membership, who jammed steelworkers hall, Palmerton, for the meeting.

The company said it would stand on its "one and only offer," given July 25.

The company proposal was a 15¢ cent an hour wage increase. This would add $200,000 to this year's payroll and almost as much next year.

May Agree William Moran, regional director for the USW, said, "If the company representatives are willing to participate in serious negotiations we can have an agreement by midnight Friday."

One of the things the union wants in a new contract is the recognition of vested rights in the company's pension program.

It is doubtful that another meeting will take place before Friday unless called by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Kresgeville

District President Albert Altomose, Saylorsburg, paid an official visit to Camp 341, POS of A at their recent meeting. Elwood Frable, president of the Frable-Fravel Clan, announced that the Kresge Variety Band will furnish the music for the reunion which will be held in the West End Fair Grounds on Sunday afternoon and evening, Aug. 21. Rev. Harold Eaton, East Stroudsburg, will address the group at the afternoon session.

Soviet Claims Nixon, Kennedy Scared Of Them

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Press said yesterday both candidates for president of the United States are running scared — not of each other but of the Soviet Union.

The Soviets also said that U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, seized by "an uncontrollable itch," is trying to aid his vice presidential campaign on the Republican ticket.

Last Detainee Freed From Wife

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—The last white detainee to be freed in the Cape area was Brian Bunting, but when he got out this week he found he couldn't reunite with his wife, Sonia, also a former detainee.

Under emergency regulations produced during South Africa's racial disorders, detainees on being freed were forbidden all communication with each other. The Buntings went to court and got permission to resume married life.

What A Difference A Cap Makes

First In Series
WHAT difference does a cap make? Plenty! Especially if you are a registered nurse. To these women, it represents a great symbol, an honor that they will cherish for the rest of their lives. For as each graduating college or high school student wears a ring, a fraternity pin, or perhaps a jacket with the school colors, so do the registered nurses all over the country wear dainty caps to signify their Alma Mater.

Each nursing institution has its own individual design of cap as does each educational institution its own colors, symbols, and decoration.

A nurse wears with dignity at all times, her cap in the fashion of her school's unique design. There are no two cap patterns similar.

It would do the world good to humanize the person upon whose head the cap appears. Beneath such a token is a woman who deals in humanity. There is a devotion to duty which never lets them forget these humanitarianities of life.

To bring to light the various shapes and designs of little-known nursing features. The Daily Record will run a series illustrating the caps. Thirty-nine photographs will complete this series. All were taken at the Monroe County General Hospital, East Stroudsburg. Photographing the 39-back sides of the Ladies of Mercy was completed by Staff Photographer Roderick G. MacLeod.

HAVE YOU TRIED THIS TENDERNESS TEST?

Only Batter Whipped Sunbeam can pass it!

1. ORDINARY BREAD tears unevenly, in jagged chunks, because it's mixed the old-fashioned way, a ton at a time. Uneven baking makes it less tender.

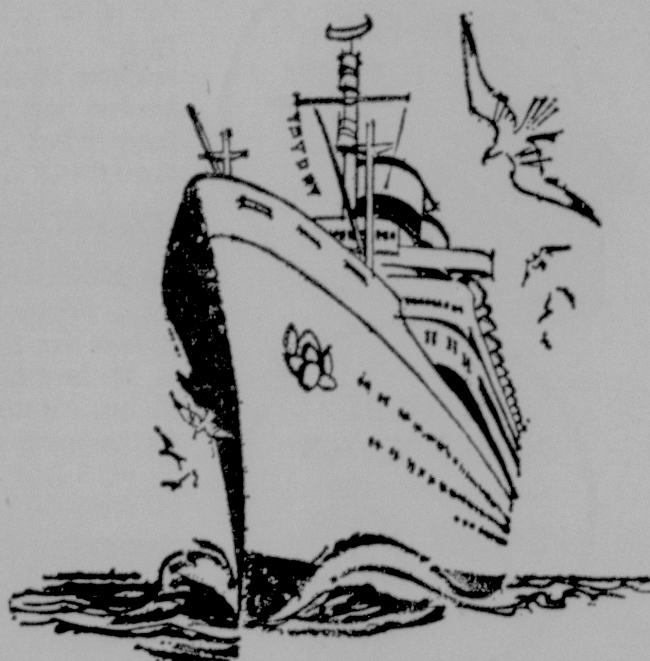

2. BATTER WHIPPED SUNBEAM BREAD tears smoothly, evenly. It's tender (even the crust!) because Sunbeam is mixed in small batches to lock in tender freshness.

Compare! Satisfy Yourself that Batter Whipped Sunbeam Bread is fresher and more flavorful!

Why Buy Ordinary Bread When Batter Whipped Costs No More!

How to take a trip abroad when you retire and have a monthly income

when you return

U.S. Savings Bonds can go a long way toward making your retirement more comfortable and more fun. And you can start now with small installments.

As an example, save as little as 60¢ a day for a month and you'll own a $25 Series E Savings Bond (cost price $18.75). Add a Bond each month for 17 years, 8 months more and you'll have 213 Bonds—cash value $5,587.

Now redeem enough of the oldest Bonds (the ones worth the most) to collect $2,900 in a lump sum for a leisurely trip. Then, after you return, there's an additional windfall—you'll have enough Bonds left over to add an average of $27 a month to your income for the next ten years.

SOME ADVANTAGES YOU MIGHT THINK ABOUT

You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan. Tell your company how much to set aside from your pay for Bonds. This way you won't forget to save and your savings will add up automatically.

You now get 3½% interest, to maturity. This new rate, which went into effect June 1, 1959, makes your Bond money grow faster. Series E Bonds now mature 14 months earlier than before—in just 7 years, 9 months. Bonds bought before June 1, 1959, earn more, too—an extra ½% from then to maturity.

You can get your money, with interest, any time you want it. Bonds are a ready reserve that you can cash any time at any bank. But it pays to keep them.

Your money is guaranteed by the U.S. Government. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The Government promises you that the cash value of your Bond will not drop—it can only grow.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bonds, free, if anything happens to them.

You save more than money. Every Bond you buy helps save the peace and keeps our Nation's economy strong.

Here's how you can reach your savings goal with U.S. Savings Bonds in just 7 years, 9 months

| If you want about | $2,500 | $5,000 | $10,000 |
|-------------------|---------|---------|----------|

PENNSYLVANIA Power & Light Co. yesterday announced the promotion of James B. Clugston to foreman of Lines and Substation Department, Stroudsburg, succeeding Charles Geris, who recently retired under the company's retirement plan.

Clugston joined the company on May 15, 1928 as a groundman in the Construction Department. In December 1934 he was promoted to Lines and Substation Department as lineman, first class.

In 1957, he was promoted to chief lineman, the position he held at the time of his recent promotion.

Mr. and Mrs. Clugston reside at 511 Brown St., Stroudsburg.

Saylors Lake Cards Four Events

SAYLORSBURG — The Saylors Lake Fishing Assn. yesterday announced this schedule of coming events:

A Boy Scout troop from Bethlehem will spend this weekend at the lake. A cake walk will be held Friday night for the benefit of the troop with cakes being furnished by residents of lake cottages.

The annual clambake will be held Sunday with Lester Leamy as chairman of arrangements.

Rosette Day

Rosette Day will be observed Aug. 14 with the American Legion drum and bugle corps, the Chieftains, taking part in the program. John Martino is in charge of arrangements.

The West End Legion Post of Brodheadville will sponsor West End Day on Aug. 21 under chairmanship of Edward Donoy.

'Foreign' Jury May Be Sought

WARREN County murder suspect Stanley Marrs' attorneys may appeal for a "foreign" (out of country) jury to hear the trial.

Awaiting trial in Warren prison for the bludgeon slaying of Lester Silverman, Blairtown department store owner, is Marrs, 34, of Johnstown, N. J. John Puresel, one of the two court-appointed defense lawyers, said Tuesday that a foreign jury may become necessary because most of the prospective jurors in Warren Co. apparently have formed opinions on the case.

No Fair Trial

A foreign jury is called when it is proved to the court that a defendant would be unable to obtain a fair trial, or when the case is so well known to prospective jurors that selection of a jury would be difficult.

The case was postponed in May and the jurors dismissed when the defense attorney was hospitalized. The state is seeking the death penalty for Marrs.

Missile Hits 500-Mile Target

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force announced yesterday a Hound Dog missile unleashed by a B52G jet bomber hit a target 500 miles down the Atlantic Missile Range. An attempt to fire an Atlas missile 7,000 miles was less successful when last second trouble resulted in engine cut-off after ignition.

An announcement said the Hound Dog "impacted in an ocean area with extreme accuracy." The test was called one of the most successful to date. This was the first time the Air Force revealed a range for the 51-foot air-to-ground missile.

The first operational Hound Dogs have been delivered to the Strategic Air Command's 4135th Strategic Wing at Eglin. The missile, which can carry a nuclear payload, is designed to enable bombers to fire at an enemy target without running the gauntlet of antiaircraft defense.

Nike Missiles To Down Atlases

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Army yesterday disclosed plans to shoot down Atlas missiles in flight as a means of testing a system of continental defense.

The system will be designed to knock down as many as 20 enemy missiles just short of their targets within seconds.

Dr. Robert S. Morse, civilian director of research and development for the Army, told a news conference at the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences that Nike-Zeus missiles would be used to knock down the Atlas over the Pacific.

Comedy At Playhouse Next Week

THE EXQUISITE and infectious musical comedy, "Ernest in Love" will move direct from a successful run in New York to the Pocono Playhouse, in Mountainhome, Pa., as the next attraction starting Monday night, Aug. 8.

Following a successful 110-week run, which was acclaimed with highest praise by New York critics, "Ernest in Love" will present practically the entire original cast in its Playhouse production.

Leading roles will be taken by Lella Martin, John Irving, Louis Edmonds and Geraldine Richards, with Kate Wilkinson in the role of Lady Bracknell. The comedy is based on one of the great stage successes of Oscar Wilde, "The Importance of Being Earnest."

The book and lyrics are by Anne Croswell, who has many successful Broadway productions to her credit and the music was composed by Lee Pockriss, who as a popular song writer wrote, among many others, the popular "Catch a Falling Star," and the popular "Tisy, Bisy, Teenie Weenie Yellow Polka Dot Bikini," with Paul Vance. The dances are staged by Frank Derbas and musical arrangements by Gershon Kingsley.

Comed Masterpiece

"Ernest in Love" is a comic masterpiece dealing in satirical fashion with English society. It radiates sly, good nature to excellent music, dancing and singing. Lella Martin, who will be seen as Gwendolen, recently returned from the National Company tour in the leading role of "West Side Story."

John Irving who portrays John Worthing, was featured in two pre-Broadway productions and in the London production of who plays the love smitten Algernon, was last seen on the New York stage in "The Killer."

Other supporting members of the musical include Lucy Landau, Sam Stoneburner, John Hays, Alan Easterby, Hal Buckley, Michael Allen Hampshire, Homer Dickens, Barbara Porte and Christina Gillespie.

Reservations for seats may be made by phoning LY 5-7456.

Cardinal Denies Red Charges

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Josef Cardinal Wendel yesterday denied Communist charges that the 37th world eucharistic congress is military and political in aim.

"It is not a political meeting, but a purely religious celebration," he told a news conference.

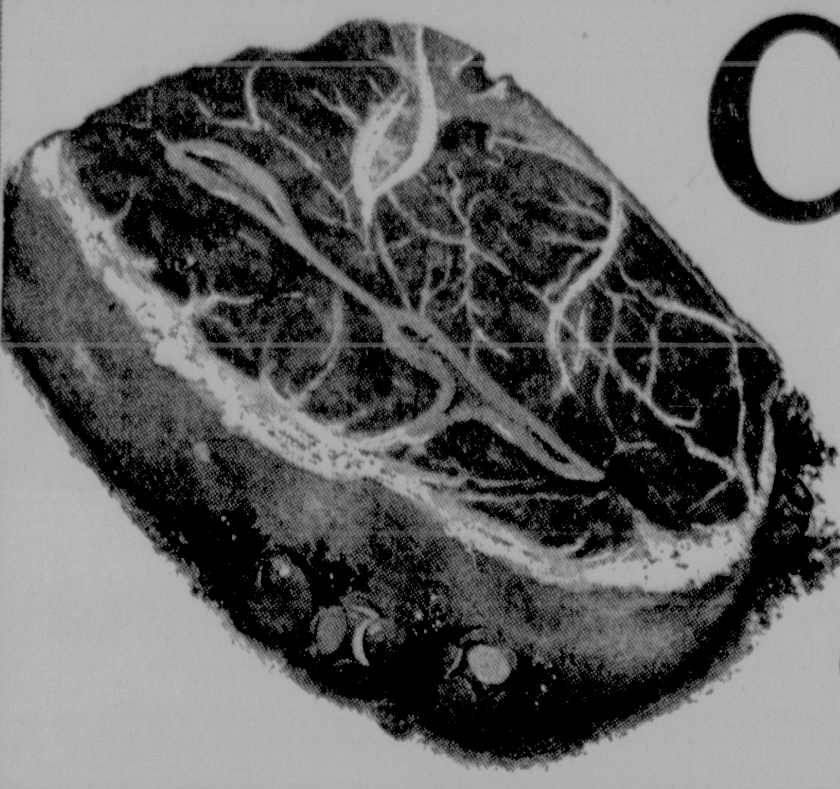

As archbishop of Munich, he is host to the great gathering of Roman Catholics. A million are expected from all over the world, except that portion under Communist rule.

Communist governments are forbidding their citizens to attend.

As Old As The Hills

Dear Abby: My wife used to be sweet, affectionate and understanding until we had a baby. Now she doesn't even know I'm around any more. When I come home after a hard day's work, supper isn't even started. She says she's been busy with the baby.

I love my wife as much as I ever did, but I'm lucky if I get a goodnight kiss. I used to talk over my work problems with her, and she'd give me good advice. Now she won't even listen. It's getting so I hate to come home nights. What is a husband supposed to do when he knows he is playing—

"SECOND FIDDLE"

Dear Second Fiddle: You don't need advice—your wife does. She is making one of the most foolish mistakes a wife can make. Pry her away from the baby one night and take her on a tour of the cocktail lounges. Let her see all the cute young things gazing over a martini into the eyes of married men whose egos were punctured years ago with diaper pins.

Dear Abby: My problem may seem simple but it is annoying. When my husband and I walk together he is always two or three steps ahead of me unless I hold onto his arm. People have told me they saw us on the street together and they wanted to know if we were mad at each other. He is a great big guy and I am small with little short legs, so I can't walk as fast as he can. But I would like to know what in the heck is his big hurry?

THREE STEPS BEHIND

Dear Three Steps Behind: Ask him. And in the meantime—hold onto his arm.

Dear Abby: When I left my office job to be married, the other girls took me to dinner at a local night club. There were eight single girls at our table. The music started and a nice-looking young man came to our table and asked me to dance.

Guess the cost of one page of advertising... in one copy of the daily newspaper!

A QUARTER A PENNY A NICKEL A HALF-DOLLAR

ANSWER:... JUST ABOUT A PENNY! In spite of greatly increased costs of production and moderate rate increases, you can still buy a big full-page newspaper ad, to run in every daily in the U.S., for about a penny a copy. And an advertiser can continue to plan future newspaper campaigns secure in the knowledge that any cost increase will be moderate and will not disrupt his budget. That's why so many use newspapers.

Just Between Us—

—By Bobby Westbrook

Rome, Italy — Today would not have been a normal one for me at home but it might have been fairly typical for many a Monroe County hostess preparing for a farewell party for one of her friends. There certainly were enough points of similarity to make it familiar — and enough differences to make it amusing to me.

First of course, there is the house to get ready which includes hand-scrubbing of marble floors by a wetter of maids. In the midst of which the husbands who have been so involved in budgets that nobody has seen them from dawn until well after late dusk, decide to come home for lunch — A problem happily solved by taking sandwiches down to the pool so everybody can cool off with a swim beforehand and the marble can dry without footmarks.

Then there is the shopping: the Embassy commissary for such items as peanuts, butter, paper napkins and sliced bread, and another stop at a bakery to order rolls. Then to the supermarket—the first in Rome to have self service. That in itself is quite an event. It is in the air-conditioned basement of a department store.

Sure enough, there are the carts with their wire baskets lined up waiting. The first difference is in the size of the baskets. A peck of potatoes—if they had potatoes—would fill one up. And the reason for that, I suppose, is that so many Italian families still have no refrigerator so nobody gets a weekly order—just for the day ahead.

And the reason they have no potatoes is that a supermarket—although it combines the items which formerly might have been sold in 20 different shops—still hasn't included fresh vegetables or fresh meat. Also missing are the frozen food cabinets. But they do have a wonderful array of foods—including green noodles—cheeses of all shapes, sizes and aromas, cured meats in a variety of forms, and a wondrous assortment of bottled fruit and vegetable juices in addition to more usual canned goods and supplies.

Moreover, at the entrance there is a step-by-step chart in words and pictures of what you do in a supermarket from getting your cart to the check-out counters, explaining sternly that the prices marked on each item are fixed and not subject to debate or bargaining at the check-out point. I hope, since bargaining has been for so long the most exciting part of shopping in Italy.

There are also numerous stops to be made on the way home for other items—and to pay bills which must be paid by hand rather than by check—which is a time-consuming task. But fascinating for the person just going along for the ride. The doctors office is on a residential street lined with little flowering trees with blossoms of pink, coral, purple, rose, lavender and white.

The drugstore is on a busy piazza with the street torn up where they are building an overpass, working frantically against time to get it finished before the Olympic tourist traffic starts in earnest — and its quite a trick—building a bridge over a street and never once closing the street to traffic. There is work in progress near the dentist's office too repairing trolley tracks resulting somehow in a one way street that is one way both ends posing the problem of how the cars parked there made it. Sideways?

Parking in Rome, despite its traffic congestion, is not so critical as on Main Street. For one thing the cars are smaller. For another, instead of parking meters they have parking attendants, licensed by the city, who must have had their training in a sardine factory they can pack cars in so tightly. Moreover, except in city parking spaces, you tip the attendants who also see that nothing is stolen while your car is at the curb under their protection.

And in the third place, many Italians use the motor scooter instead of the automobile and park their scooters under the counters inside the shop while they are working. And if you think that such a long disorientation on parking in Rome is out of place while preparing for a party—I had plenty of time for studying while Shirley was doing the necessary errands.

Still to be done, of course, are the fresh flowers from a street stall on the rim of the Borgheese Gardens—a whole truckload of fresh flowers for a dollar.

We looked mighty festive, so flower laden when we got home. But our expressions were far from festive when we discovered that during our absence Robin and her little friends had come up from swimming and decided to have a Halloween party there and then, complete with costumes, dragged down from the top cupboards of the storage wall—and pop corn—by then scattered like snowflakes on those clean marble floors.

And if that doesn't sound like home, what would? If I ever find my other high heeled shoes to wear to the party, I may even think it was funny.

Mrs. Lansing Will Celebrate Her 104th Birthday On Saturday

Portland — A woman resident here, who has only recently given up her chores in her household, has assumed the distinction of being the oldest citizen in the area and perhaps in the Commonwealth.

She is Mrs. Sallie Lansing, who will celebrate her 104th birthday anniversary on Saturday, Aug. 6.

A former Blakeslee (Monroe County) resident, Mrs. Elizabeth Wildrick Blakeslee held the previous honor by celebrating 105 years of life. She died on Sunday, July 31 holding the title of being the oldest resident of Monroe County, and even better, as one of the oldest persons in the Commonwealth.

Mrs. Lansing was born in Stamford, a small neighboring community, on Aug. 6, 1856. She married a Scranton man (Poff) in 1884 and they moved to Philadelphia.

Her husband died shortly thereafter and she was remarried. The second marriage was to Dr. G. W. Lansing, a former professor at Millersville State Teachers College, Pa. in 1916.

The elderly woman is still very active. She is now a boarding resident of Barto Nursing Home of Portland, after giving up her own home when she reached 100 years of age.

Among her daily activities at the nursing home are reading both the Bible and the daily newspapers.

Mrs. Lansing is a member of the Tabernacle Lutheran Church, of 59th and Spruce Sts., Philadelphia where she taught Sunday School for 37 years. For the past year, she has been a resident of the nursing home and is reported to be "doing very nicely."

Smith Family Reunion Held

Music was furnished by Kresges Variety Band under the direction of John E. Kresge. The main address of the afternoon was delivered by Wilbur Warner of Lehighon.

Prizes were awarded to the oldest person attending, Wilson Smith of Penn Forest, 91 years old; to the youngest person who was Sharon Faye Smith of Pen Argyl and to the person coming the greatest distance, Mrs. Carol Gombosi of Paris, France.

The couple longest married were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dotter, 66 years, and the most recently married couple were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henninger of Jim Thorpe who have been married four months.

The prize for the largest family went to Wilson Smith with six children present including A. Wilson Smith, Milton Smith, Austin Smith, Mrs. James Getz, Mrs. Myrtle Meckes, Mrs. Norman Green and Mrs. Frank Henninger.

Tannersville is sponsoring the affair. They will also hold a bazaar with numerous items going on sale.

The Wyckoff Shopper

Mrs. Clark is far too feminine to be properly called "handsome"—yet this word carries a connotation of strength and character associated with my remembrance of her. Tall, distinguished, with great charm of manner and friendly eyes (blue, I think), she greeted us cordially in the entrance hall. But we had been made to feel welcome and awaited from the very moment we crossed her porch . . . for there, outside of her open door, was a waffle-weave fiber mat to the upper left hand corner of which was attached a graceful spray of plastic ferns (such as we sell in our Wyckoff gift department) and a plump, rosy cluster of wax strawberries. The idea was so gracious, I asked Mrs. Clark if it had been original with her.

"No, I'm afraid I can't claim it as my idea," she smiled. "It was suggested to me by my secretary, a very capable woman who has been with me thirty-one years. She may have seen it in Hammacher-Schlemmer or some other New York store. It is lovely isn't it?"

Mrs. Clement Gray Bowers, wife of Dr. Bowers who was conducting the course in early American gardens, overheard our conversation, and later told me she had seen such mats in a New York store priced at 25.00, "but I made them up myself," she said, "and gave them to all my friends last Christmas. Here's how it's done, if you wish to pass the idea along to your readers and listeners: you purchase a fiber mat—I personally chose those that say 'Welcome,' and as many yards as you need of hardware cloth. This is a mesh that comes with either 1/4 or 1/2 inch openings. I attached a narrow strip of this to the edge of the mat I wished to decorate, then attached sprigs of fresh pine, cones, unbreakable Christmas ornaments, and bright red bows. Everyone admired them. Of course, you can change your decorations to suit the season or holiday."

What a lovely idea! . . . and how grateful I am to Mrs. Bowers for her kindness, and to Mrs. Clark for permitting me to take pages of notes as I wandered from cellar to attic of her home.

To the door at the left of the main hall just inside the entrance, there is a framed motto, which all guests must see. In the words of Queen Victoria it reads: There is no depression in this house, and we are not interested in the possibilities of defeat. They do not exist."

This attitude, and the fact that Fernleigh has a definite motif in its decor, impress themselves upon visitors. Mrs. Clark loves the strawberry . . . both the fruit and the flower. Wild strawberries (skillfully planted, perhaps?) may be seen here and there on the shady, beautifully kept grounds, and the strawberry design may be found everywhere within the home. It was embroidered upon the place mats and napkins with which Mrs. Clark's table, sparkling with cranberry-and-crystal glassware, was set. It was painted upon any number of black chests . . . applied upon guest towels in at least one of the six bathrooms . . . stencilled upon the tile tray and carafe on the night table in one of the bedrooms. There were strawberry shaped pin cushions . . . and the rich, lush red of strawberries is used everywhere, combined with stark white, powder blue, and shiny black.

This is a home that is cozy, comfortable, and colorful . . . a home that has been planned with loving interest and pride, and this obvious fact takes precedence easily over the equally obvious fact that there was no need for budgeting as it was planned. Many of Mrs. Clark's decorating ideas could be utilized by any one of you, who shop right here at Wyckoff's.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Thirty-six of the 32,511 applicants for drivers' licenses since June 1 failed their physical examination, the Revenue Department reported Wednesday.

The oldest person to take the test was 85 and he passed, added Revenue Secretary Charles M. Dougherty.

The total failing the physical check, which was added to the requirements for all new applicants

June 1 by executive order, represented about one-tenth of one per cent.

Dougherty said six were over 60 years old; three were between 51 and 60; six between 41 and 50; five between 31 and 40; four between 21 and 30; seven between 17 and 20, and five were 15.

Almost one-third of the total applicants, however, were temporarily denied permits until they could obtain glasses to correct visual defects.

Launching Of Space Team In '66

WASHINGTON (AP)—The space agency has disclosed plans to launch three-man Project Apollo space crews by 1966 into earth-orbit journeys lasting from two weeks to two months.

Even more ambitiously, a lighter-weight version of the same Apollo spacecraft somewhat later may be sent on a week-long assignment around the moon and back.

But there's no plan for a man-on-the-moon project before 1970. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration also plans to land a truck-mounted robot laboratory gently on the face of the moon, and move it by remote control about a 50-mile-radius lunar circle, taking moon samples. It will be aptly named Project Prospector.

All Will Be Done
All this will be done before an American attempts to set foot on the moon, NASA officials told 1,500 contractors attending a two-day series of lectures on the space agency's plans.

Manager Switch May Hit Snag

Dykes Won't Sign For One Year

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the strangest deals ever engineered in baseball—the straight swap of Detroit Manager Jimmy Dykes for Cleveland Manager Joe Gordon—struck a snag Wednesday night when Dykes declared he would quit unless he received a contract through 1961.

Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane, who had expected to sign Dykes on Friday for the remainder of the 1960 season, said that Dykes, in a telephone conversation earlier Wednesday, had accepted terms which called for him merely to finish out the season.

"I find it hard to believe that Jimmy actually said that," Lane said. "He was very agreeable on the telephone. He told me he would be glad to finish out his Detroit term in Cleveland."

Pay Hike
"As a matter of fact," Lane added, "I told him I would pay him at Gordon's salary terms for the remainder of the year. This meant that he would be earning some $2,000 more since Joe was making more money."

Bill DeWitt, president of the Tigers, who masterminded the deal, supported Lane.

Dykes, who remained in New York to watch the finale of the four game series between the Tigers and New York Yankees, told newsmen:

"Unless I get next year written into the contract, I will quit and go home. I don't anticipate any trouble because Lane was very nice to me on the telephone."

"I can't take a seven-week situation in which the players and the manager know that the manager will be fired at the end of that time."

Lane indicated strongly he had no intention of extending Dykes' contract beyond the 1960 season. "I would say that Dykes' job after the 1960 season is in no more jeopardy than that of any other manager," he added.

Dykes, who had been expected to join Lane and the Indians Friday, Gordon, fired and then rehired by Lane last year, will take over the Tigers when they return home the same night. He takes with him a two-year contract, ending after 1961, he had with the Indians.

Neither, of course, was permitted to manage his old club Wednesday night. Coach Billy Hitchcock took over from Dykes for the game with the Yankees.

The switch of managers started as a joke between DeWitt and Lane when DeWitt said two weeks ago, "Let's trade managers."

Barrow Blanks Slaters

TOM BARROW threw his second shutout in a row, as the Stroudsburgs singled their way to a 4-0 win over the Slaters in a Blue Mountain League contest.

The Stroudsburgs managed only five hits, all singles but capitalized on two Slaters errors.

Barrow fanned only three and survived a rocky seventh inning to record his sixth win against a lone defeat.

The Stroudsburgs got off to a one run lead in the first, when Ron Plaza walked and on an attempted steal. Joe Blahut threw the ball into center field, allowing Plaza to move to third. Al Miller poked a single to left, scoring Plaza.

Walk Hurts
In the fourth, John Brunner led off with a walk and moved to second on a passed ball.

Randy Morris was safe on Tucker's choice and Dick Gray followed with a long shot down the right field line that Bill Kise barely got his glove on. It was ruled a two base error but scored Brunner and Morris.

Al McCormick singled Gray home with the third run of the inning and the last run of the game.

The Slaters came up with three successive singles in the seventh but couldn't push a run across.

Barrow fanned Sam Mesback and got Tony Falcone and Bill Kneehone to fly out to end the game.

Phils Win On Callison Pinch Homer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pinch-hitter Johnny Callison's two-run homer in the ninth gave Philadelphia a 6-5 victory over San Francisco Wednesday night. It was the Phillies third straight victory over the Giants.

Callison hit a 2-2 pitch off Giant reliever Billy Loes over the right field wall after Tony Curry singled as a pinchhitter for winning pitcher Dick Farrell.

The homer provided Farrell with his second victory in two nights over San Francisco, and his 9th against two losses.

The Giants had rallied for five runs in the eighth inning to overcome a 4-0 Philadelphia lead in a game which was delayed 64 minutes in the last half of the first inning by a thunderstorm.

Willie Mays ignited the Giants late flurry with a single to center, and moved to third on Jim Marshall's liner to right. Phillies right-hander Art Mahaffey, making his first major league start, was replaced by Farrell.

same team that dropped nine of the last 11, the Bengals pummeled Jim Coates and three relievers for 13 hits including a home run by first baseman Norm Cash. They also received 14 passes.

Good Pitching
The Tigers got good pitching to go along with their solid hitting. Hank Aguirre hurled shutout ball for six innings, allowing only one hit — John Blanchard's sixth inning single — but was replaced in the seventh when his arm stiffened.

The Yankees got four of their five hits off reliever Dave Regan. One of the hits was a home run by catcher Johnny Blanchard following a single by Bob Cerv to account for the Yankees runs.

Despite the defeat the Yankees retained their first place lead of one game over the Chicago White Sox who were beaten by Baltimore, 6-5 in 11 innings. The third place Orioles trail the Yankees by two games.

V. F. W. stood off a late rally by Wyckoff-Sears for a 9-6 win in the Stroudsburg Little League last night.

Bisbing was credited with the win, although he was replaced by Ron Yost in the fifth. Bisbing also accounted for two of the winner's nine hits.

Cramer rapped two singles for the losers, who staged a four run fifth inning.

Mrs. Pope Wins Berth In Olympics

DETROIT (AP) — California's Paula Myers Pope, long-time runner-up to retired Pat McCormick, Wednesday earned a place on the U.S. Olympic team for the third time by winning the women's springboard diving at the Olympic swimming and diving trials here.

The slender, 25-year-old blonde from Los Angeles, piled up a lead in the morning preliminary heats and semifinals and then clinched her trip to Rome with three fine dives in the afternoon despite a driving rain.

Mrs. Pope, an Olympic silver medalist in 1952 and a bronze medal winner in 1956 in platform diving, won the springboard crown here with 138.63 points.

The second place on the team went to Patsy Willard, a shapely brunette from Mesa, Ariz., with 129.49 points.

Late Rally
The Arizona girl, winner of the recent national AAU title, rallied from fourth place after the semifinals to nose out Joe Lenzie of Coral Gables, Fla., and Barbara McAllister of Los Angeles, who tied for third with 128.23 points each.

Mrs. Juno Irwin, 31-year-old veteran of three Olympics, was fifth with 121.59. The Glendale, Calif., matron, however, is favored to gain a berth in Friday's platform diving.

Rain marred the afternoon program but didn't deter the swimmers who posted some record-breaking times in the qualifying heats of the backstroke and butterfly.

Record Broken
Mike Troy, 19-year-old whiz from Indiana University, broke his own listed world record of 2:16.4 for the 200-meter butterfly with a time of 2:14.1. However, he has a world mark of 2:13.4 pending which he set last month in the National AAU championships.

Bob Bennett, a 17-year-old schoolboy from Los Angeles, was clocked in 1:02.6 for the 100-meter backstroke. This eclipsed the American mark of 1:02.9 established by Tom Stock of Bloomington, Ill., but was slower than Bennett's pending time of 1:01.9. Stock was third among the eight qualifiers today in 1:03.6. Olympian Frank McKinney of Indianapolis was second in 1:03.1.

Schoolgirl Leads
Anne Bancroft, a powerful 15-year-old schoolgirl from Arlington, Va., topped the qualifiers in the women's 100-meter butterfly with a time of 1:09.4, only three-tenths of a second slower than Olympian Nancy Ramey's world record of 1:09.1. Miss Ramey, second in the 1956 olympics, was the runnerup today in 1:10.1. They swam in the same heat.

The eight qualifiers in all three events will swim for the Olympic position in Thursday night's finals.

Mrs. Pope, winner of both the springboard and platform crowns at the Pan-American games last year, will attempt to make it a double Friday night. She is the favorite to succeed Mrs. McCormick who copped both dives at the Olympics in 1952 and 1956.

Majors Must Face Task Of Absorbing Continental

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The major leagues Wednesday were confronted with the problem of putting flesh and blood into half of Branch Rickey's dream Continental League.

The American and National Leagues admittedly were ready to expand, but Tuesday Rickey cast the die for them by folding his would-be third major league in exchange for placing four Continental franchises in the existing majors. This happened at an epic meeting between the majors' two expansion committees and the Continental League.

It's a guessing game as to which Continental franchise will go where, except that New York is a cinch entry in the National League which has sorrowed since the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants left the nation's largest city to sole control of the American's Yankees.

Others Considered
Other Continental franchises prospects are Toronto, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Houston and Dallas-Fort Worth. Toronto is rumored a likely National League addition, with a Texas entry and Minneapolis-St. Paul ticketed for the American.

The other Continental league franchises belong to Buffalo, Atlanta and Denver.

Tuesday's surprising session seemed to lift what appeared a heavy smog screen, in the form of the hard-pressing Continental League, from an effort to restore a National League franchise to New York.

Personal Win
It was a personal triumph for Bill Shea, New York attorney and Chairman of Mayor Wagner's Committee for the Return of Baseball to New York. Shea instigated formation of the Continental league, headed by 79-year-old Rickey, when a third major league seemed the only means of getting another New York big league team.

However, whether the Continental League died and whether the majors were ready to rush into expansion by 1961, as first mentioned, loomed as moot questions after all parties scurried back to their respective towns today.

One spokesman for the erstwhile Continental League emphasized that the Continental did not die but will be absorbed, in toto, by the National and American Leagues within three years.

Meanwhile, Hank Greenberg, vice president of the Chicago White Sox and a member of the American League expansion committee, indicated that the wheels of expansion may grind more slowly than was indicated at Tuesday's love feast.

"Everybody seems to forget," said Greenberg, "that only the expansion committees met with the Continental League. Don't forget we have to go back to our respective leagues for full approval of the proposed expansion."

One Continental League franchise holder said the American Assn., in which the Continental claimed five franchises, asked one million dollars per franchise from the Continental.

Crum Balks At Pro Offer

J. BIRNEY CRUM, former Allentown High and Muhlenberg football and basketball coach, said yesterday that he is definitely not interested in a coaching job with the new Allentown pro football team.

Crum, who was a golfing guest of Marty Baldwin at Glen Brook Country Club yesterday, said he had been in Chicago for several days and knew nothing of the new league, to be called the Eastern Professional Football Conference.

After Crum was told the details of the new set-up, and that the Allentown entry was interested in him as a coach, he replied:

"I am a partner in a shoe business that keeps me busy enough now and I do not want to take on any additional responsibilities." Allentown, one of 12 cities granted a franchise in the new set-up, will play its home games in Hess Stadium on Saturday nights.

The league hopes to stock its teams with former college players and eventually serve as a farm league for either the National Football League or the American Football League.

Starting With Big Handicap

While any expansion in professional sports is a step toward better competition, the Eastern League may be born with several handicaps that will mark it for an early death.

Television and high school games will definitely hurt the gate.

The Allentown team will have to compete directly for the fans' dollar with all the area high schools and with Saturday night games the current trend for the prep schools, the pros will have to find some way to entice the high school fans.

Westerns Could Hurt Gate

The AFL and NFL have scheduled several Saturday night TV casts and there is always "Gunsmoke" and "Have Gun" to contend with.

Player material could be a big problem in a game that is geared exclusively to the fans. Several of the Eastern teams have played as semi-pro units for years but lack the college trained players.

The Eastern Basketball League, which has an abundance of talent, and little television interference, barely squeaks by every year, with two or three clubs on the financial borderline.

And the hoop boasts a dozen or so All-Americans in its ranks.

But the Eastern grid loop will have none of this going for it and its expenses, because of larger squads and equipment will be much larger than the court league.

With all this facing the Eastern Conference, it is not hard to understand why Crum does not want to get involved.

Coaches Laud Bob Gutowski After Death

Shawnee Inn Wins 2nd Swim Meet

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP)

—Bob Gutowski, killed in a traffic collision Tuesday, was remembered affectionately Wednesday by men who had coached him on his way to the world's pole vaulting championship.

"I feel like I have lost a son," said Payton Jordan, who coached the slender athlete at Occidental College.

"He was a hard working boy, with beautiful coordination and tremendous desire," said Ian (Sandy) MacLaren, Gutowski's coach at La Jolla High School.

Two Died

Gutowski, 25, a Marine Corps lieutenant, was killed when his car collided with another on the Camp Pendleton reservation.

Jordan, now coaching at Stanford, is vacationing at Catalina Island.

In his senior year at Occidental, Gutowski vaulted 15 feet 8 1/2 inches on April 27, 1957, to break Cornelius Warmerdam's mark of 15-7 1/4, which had stood for eight years. A vault of 15-9 1/4 the same year by Gutowski was rejected because the wind blew the pole back in the pit.

The 15-9 1/4 is still the official record, although Don Bragg's 15-9 1/4 in last month's Olympic trials is up for recognition.

Owens Claims Back Injury

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia pitcher Jim Owens, due back in uniform after a three-day suspension by Manager Gene Mauch, reported to General Manager John Quinn Tuesday that he injured his back in an accident at his home.

Owens told Quinn that he sustained the injury while moving furniture at his home here.

A team official said Owens would be examined by team physician, Dr. K. George Laquer.

Reds Purchase Pitcher Bridges

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds Tuesday bought Marshall Bridges, southpaw reliever, from the St. Louis Cardinals in a cash deal.

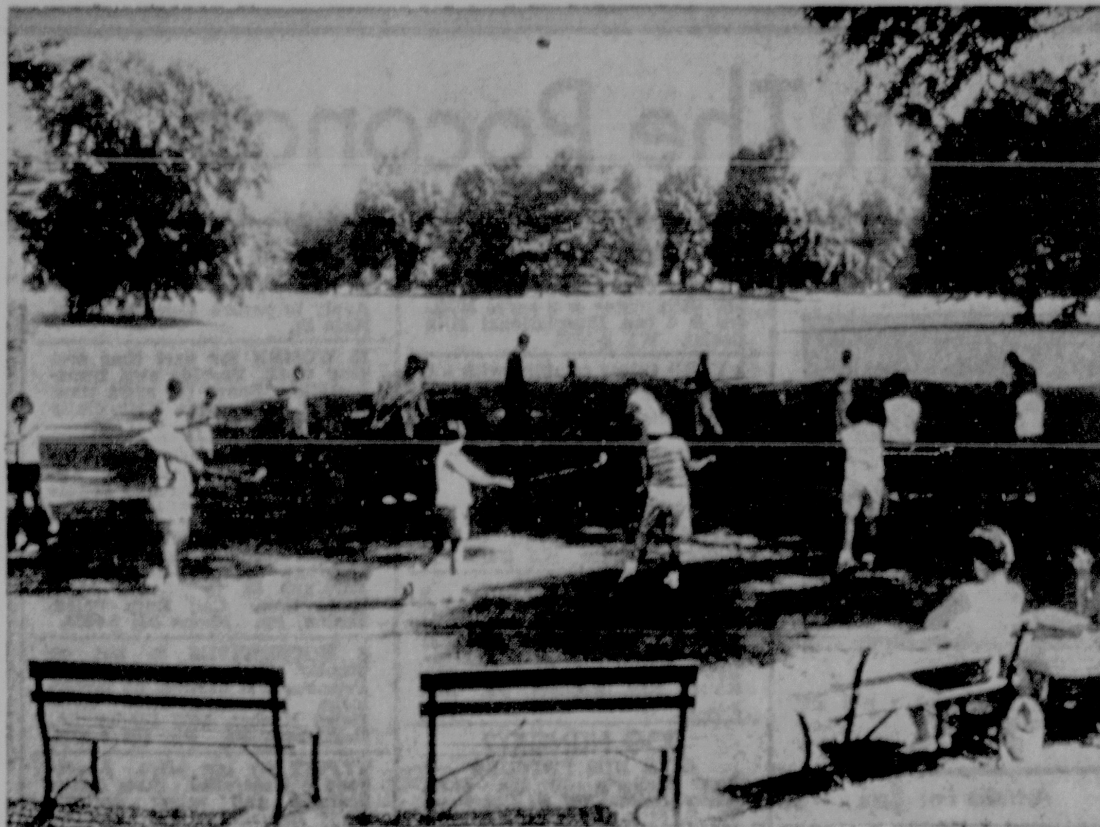

Bridges, 29, who made one start for the Cards this year, has a 2-2 mark this season in 31 innings of pitching.

Bridges had a 3-3 mark with Rochester of the International League when the Cards called him up last season.

Game Audience

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII will give a mass audience to all Olympic athletes and officials in St. Peter's square on Aug. 24, the Vatican press office said Wednesday.

Portland Can Clinch Blue Mountain Youth Title Today

PORTLAND will be pressing for the 1960 championship in the Blue Valley Youth Baseball League when the Bangor Yanks are engaged under the lights at Bangor Memorial Park Stadium Thursday at 8.

This is the final contest of the regular schedule for the circuit leaders, who need a victory to wrap up the title. A defeat could force a playoff involving Portland with either the Yanks or the Bangor Giants.

Of Portland's three setbacks this summer, two have been inflicted by the Giants, 4-1 and 6-2, with the latter of last week keeping the pennant in doubt, and one by the Yanks, 4-3.

Stay In Race

The Yanks, who also have a postponement to make up with the Giants, kept in contention Friday by bowling over Roseto 12-5 at Bangor, with Jimmy Maso, Denny Holland and Monk Parsons pitching against Joe Capoliella and Gary Merio.

Falcone Named

Thursday night it is expected that Tony Falcone will be on the firing line for the Yanks. In case his shoulder is still ailing, however, Manager Chummy Heard will throw Sherry Heard, Manager Bun Reimer, of Portland, intends to go with Leo Reimer.

Although the big game is booked for the Bangor diamond, it is a home event for Portland. The expense of using the lights is being defrayed by the contributions of Mt. Bethel and Portland business men. There will be no charge at the gate but the hat will be passed as has been the practice at all league ventures.

The standings:

| | W | L |
|-----------|----|----|
| Portland | 12 | 3 |
| Giants | 11 | 4 |
| Yanks | 10 | 4 |
| Green Sox | 6 | 8 |
| A's | 3 | 11 |
| Roseto | 1 | 13 |
